BULBS

Hyacinths

For growing in pots.—Plant from September to December, using a light loam mixed with leaf mold and well-decomposed manure. Cover bulbs so that tops will just show, and after watering well, place in a cool, dark place out-of-doors. When the pots are full of roots and the tops have sprouted about an inch, which will be in about six or eight weeks, they may be removed indoors to a sunny situation and plentifully supplied with water at the roots.

For growing in glasses.—Allow water to just touch base of bulbs, and place in a dark closet or cellar where temperature is about 50°. Expose gradually to light and sun when glasses are well filled with roots. Change the water as it becomes impure, drawing roots entirely from glass, and rinsing in clean water. Be particular to always keep the water to a level with the base of each bulb.

For growing in the garden.—Bulbs may be planted any time from October to December. They require a light, rich soil, and the crown of the bulb should be three to five inches below the surface; set six inches apart. Where the ground becomes frozen, cover with straw or leaves to the depth of about three inches, removing the covering early in spring.

If ordered by mail please add fifteen cents per dozen for postage.

Early White Roman Hyacinths

This beautiful and very valuable variety, if planted in September and gently forced, will bloom in November, or flowering may be retarded till Christmas by keeping in a cool place. The flowers, which are smaller than those of the ordinary hyacinth, are produced in great profusion, each bulb throwing up three or four spikes of delicately scented, clear white blossoms; highly recommended for parlor decoration. Extra large bulbs, 10 cents each; 50 cents per dozen; $3.50 per hundred.

Grape Hyacinths

Little round bells, so arranged as to resemble a bunch of grapes, blue and white, 2 for 5 cents; per dozen, 25 cents.

Tulips

Of easy culture, flowering freely in almost any location, producing as fine flowers in the city garden as in more favored places. Double and single tulips planted together present a more extended display than if planted separately. Cultural treatment similar to hyacinths, except that the bulbs, being smaller, must not be planted quite so deep. If ordered by mail please add five cents per dozen for postage.

Parrot Tulips

Of singularly picturesque appearance, and exceedingly showy on account of their curiously lacinated petals and varied shades of beautiful colors in the same flower. Splendid mixture, from many named sorts, per dozen, 25c; per hundred, $1.50.

Crocuses

One of our earliest spring flowers, and on account of its vari-colored blossoms, is beautifully effective. The more thickly crocuses are planted the finer is the effect produced—say in clumps of six, twelve, or more bulbs, or in beds of one hundred to five hundred bulbs, either in separate colors or mixed. With ordinary care they will bloom freely in any sitting-room window. Plant the bulbs two inches deep and two or three inches apart. When grown in pots plant thickly and treat as in the cultivation of the hyacinth. If ordered by mail please add fifteen cents per hundred for postage.

Tigridias

The Tigridia or “Mexican Shell Flower,” as it is often called, is remarkable for the brilliancy of its gold and scarlet coloring. Its culture is similar to that of the Gladiolus, and for summer flowering in the garden, the bulbs should be planted out in the spring. It is one of the easiest plants in the world to cultivate and is sure to flower abundantly in any warm situation. Each 5 cents; per doz., 50 cents.

Scilla Siberica

The Siberian Squill has flowers of a lovely ultramarine blue color, borne in graceful spikes, produced in great profusion. In the house it blooms early, like the Roman Hyacinths, and forms a beautiful contrast with them. In the open ground they are quite hardy and are specially fine planted in small beds or with Snowdrops. Each 5 cents; per dozen 30 cents.

Cyclamen Persicum Giganteum

Among the many charming plants which grace the greenhouse and sitting-room window during the spring and winter months, few, if any, are so interestingly pretty and accommodating as the Cyclamen. Its neat, graceful, chaste flowers, varying from snow-white to crimson, secure for it universal admiration, while the simplicity of its culture brings it within the reach of even those who can command no better accommodation than a sitting-room window. For indoor decoration these plants are indispensable.

Those we offer are the giant-flowered varieties, and for clear and beautiful colors, massive substance and fine form of flowers, are unrivaled. The pretty, variegated foliage and bright flowers throughout the long blooming season, render it a favorite wherever known. Plant in light rich soil and watersparingly until it begins vigorous growth. Strong flowering bulbs, each 10 cents; per dozen $1.00.

Seed saved from our superb collection, per packet of 20 seeds, 25 cents.

Tuberous Begonias

It is hard to describe the marvelous beauty of these magnificent flowering plants, which, with less labor and attention than other bulbs demand, give wonderfully beautiful results. As pot plants they have no equal, but in the garden they are not always a success unless planted in partial shade and protected from winds and storms. All the varieties are gorgeous and bear flowers of an almost incredible size, and for range and delicacy of color far eclipse any other class of plant. They are most at home in a light, loamy soil, and, as already mentioned, require a somewhat shaded location.

Gloxinias

Like the Tuberous Begonia, bulbs of this handsome and showy plant are in great demand by florists. Of easy culture, and carefully treated may be had in bloom at almost any season of the year in our favorable climate. The colors are very numerous, each hue pure and distinct, while many are spotted in a very attractive manner. Choice varieties, mixed colors, each 15c; per dozen $1.40.

Lilies

Everyone loves the lily—and well they may, for it stands unrivaled amongst hardy plants, for variety of color and beauty of form. Lilies are of easy culture; plant from four to eight inches deep, according to the size of the bulb. They should remain undisturbed for years, as frequent removals injure the roots.

Lily of the Valley (Convallaria)

Perhaps the most charming of spring flowering plants, bearing slender stems set with tiny bells, which diffuse a delicious odor. The growth is close, dwarf and compact, and the plant is hardy and permanent. It is also a most popular plant for forcing. They generally flower in three or four weeks after planting. These pretty flowers grow in shady places where few other flowers succeed; they bloom freely out-of-doors, and may be had from New Year on, when forced, beginning with a temperature of 45° and increasing very gradually to 65°. If the pots have a little bottom heat during the winter months, they will do better. Select a half dozen of strong, firm pips, with roots attached, for a six-inch pot, and use rich, sandy loam. After flowering, they may be planted in the flower border.

Majilis. Flowering pips, each, 5c; dozen, 30c; hundred, $1.40. Strong clumps for planting in the open ground, each, 50c; per dozen, $5.00.

Majilis Rosea. Crowns, each, 10c; per dozen, $1.00.

Majilis Pleno. Crowns, each, 10c; per dozen, $1.00.

Calla Lily

Calla Lily (Richardia Ethiopica). One of the best known plants and of easy management. Each, 10c; per dozen, 80c.

Spotted Calla (Richardia Alba Maculata). The leaves of this variety are deep green, with numerous white spots, which gives the plant a very ornamental appearance. The flowers are pure white, with a black center. They grow freely, either indoors or out. Each, 15c; per dozen, $1.50.

Black Calla (Arum Sanctum). This interesting variety resembles in habit and foliage the White Calla, with flowers of a rich, clear, coal black color, and a most striking oddity. It is a recent introduction, and is rapidly finding its way into every collection. Large flowering bulbs, each, 15c.

Calochortus

(Mariposa Lily or Butterfly Tulips)

An extremely beautiful class of plants, natives of California. They have erect cup-like flowers of large size, and of varied and brilliant colors, borne on stiff slender stalks eight to twenty inches high, with from six to twenty flowers on a stalk. For pot culture they are superb, and in a light, rich, deep soil are easily cultivated out-of-doors. They thrive in cold climates when given slight protection during winter. Splendid Mixture of many varieties. Per dozen, 25 cents; per hundred, $1.25.

Oxalis

A very pleasing class of small bulbs, producing vast quantities of brilliant flowers during the autumn and winter months; especially desirable for planting in hanging baskets and window boxes, in which they make a splendid display. Of easy culture, requiring only good soil and plenty of light, under which conditions they do well.

Sparaxis

A beautiful class of bulbs, allied to the Ixias and requiring the same treatment, producing spikes of most exquisite flowers. It would be difficult to conceive colors more diversified and magnificent than abound in this family. They will not do outdoors in cold climates, but are invaluable for greenhouse or parlor culture. All colors mixed, per dozen, 25c; per hundred, $1.50.

Ixias

The Ixia is a slender, graceful-growing plant, with long, loose spikes of bloom, resembling a miniature gladiolus. The colors are rich, varied, and beautiful, the center always differing in color from the other parts of the flower, so that the blossoms expanding in the sun's rays present a picture of gorgeous beauty. Very desirable for pot culture, but requiring protection where frosts are severe. All varieties in splendid mixture, per dozen, 25c; per hundred, $1.25.

Snowdrops

A well-known, beautiful, early, white flower, loved by all. There is no trouble in growing this modest little plant; merely plant them about two inches deep, and one inch apart, in clumps or rows. Double, per dozen, 30c; per 100, $2.00. Single, per dozen, 20c; per 100, $1.25.

Montbretia

Magnificent decorative plants, producing long, branching spikes of gladiola-like blooms, two to three feet high, in the most delicate and richest shades of yellow, orange, and scarlet. Each, 5c; per dozen, 50c.

Dielytra or Bleeding Heart

The most elegant of all forced plants for conservatory and room decoration, also to cut for furnishing vases. The graceful pendant branches are loaded with beautiful red heart-shaped flowers, and furnished with the most delicate rich green foliage. In shrubberies or herbaceous borders, few plants in summer are so attractive. Strong roots, each, 15c; per dozen, $1.50.

Iris (Fleur-de-Lis)

The Iris is the "orchid" of the flower garden. The blossoms of the Flag Iris are the most rich and varied in color of hardy plants, and should be extensively planted in flower and shrubbery borders, and naturalized in wild gardens. As a cut flower, these Irises are invaluable, competing in richness and variety of color with the choicest and most beautiful orchids; useful as cut flowers, as they last a long time in the water.

A Botanical Curiosity

The Resurrection Plant or Bird's-nest Moss. In a dry state this plant resembles a ball of apparently dry and lifeless moss, which upon immersing the roots in cold rain water, or placed in a wine glass filled with water, will in a few hours be transformed into a beautiful green moss fern. The experiment can be repeated many times. Price by mail, postage prepaid, 5c each; 50c per dozen.
